PRESS RELEASE

Landskrona, Sweden, July 16, 2015

Haldex appoints Lena Nordin as SVP Human Resources

Lena Nordin has been promoted to SVP Human Resources and joins the Group Management team. Lena Nordin has worked for Haldex as VP Talent Management since April 2014.

Lena Nordin was recruited to a newly formed position as VP Talent Management approximately one year ago. Lena Nordin has during her year at Haldex implemented a number of improvements within areas such as leadership and employee development, employer branding and recruitment.

“Lena has gone from strength to strength and we feel that she now is ready to take on the Human Resource responsibility for all of Haldex. Lena has the right attitude and experience to lead the way towards a culture based on high performing teams where leadership development will be one of our important focus areas.”, says Bo Annvik, President and CEO of Haldex. “I would also like to thank Pete Lazar who has held this position the past four years. He has successfully transformed a decentralized HR organization in each business unit to a global HR organization. I’m very pleased that Pete is continuing to work for Haldex as he is a very experienced member of our team.”

Prior to joining Haldex, Lena served as Head of CoE Talent Management at Baxter-Gambro Renal and Vice President Global Learning & Development at Gambro AB. She has also been responsible for the Human Resources function in Sweden, as well as HR Business Partner for the global R&D function at Gambro. Before joining Gambro, Lena was responsible for HR at Ericsson Mobile Platforms. Lena is 50 years old and has studied Business Administration in combination with Organization and Leadership Development at Stockholm University, Sweden.

As SVP Human Resources, Lena Nordin will be part of the Group Management team. She will assume her new position immediately.
